Camp Fire Girls Draw Large Audience

That the residents of this community are willing and eager to support a movement having for its object the promotion of a better home life, a better social life and a better community life, was demonstrated by the large attendance at the first public affair given last Friday evening by the Cohasset Camp Fire Girls.

Probably the greatest number of persons ever gathered in Arts and Crafts Hall was present.

The objects of the organization, of which the greater number were unfamiliar, were beautifully brought out in song, ceremony, and reward-giving.

Victrola Fund Gets A Good Start

There are those in Carmel who are imbued with the Luther Burbank spirit.

There are those who realize that a victrola in the public school is a necessity.

It is not generally known that aside from the entertaining feature of a victrola, it has a real practical value. The Palmer system of teaching penmanship, in vogue in the local school, provides for the use of the phonograph in the process.

Every adult resident should contribute a small sum toward this worthy object.

To date the fund stands:

Cash on hand	7.00
Mary Elizabeth Lloyd	1.00
William P. Silva	5.00
Mrs. S. E. White	5.00
J. F. Devendorf	5.00
Mrs. W. L. Overstreet	1.00
T. S. Burnight, Ukiah	1.00
Mrs. C. L. Carrington	1.00

The following letter has been received:

Dear Mr. Overstreet: Re Mrs. White's article in the last Pine Cone. I hope that my name heads your list, not because of the amount of my contribution, for it must be a small one, but because of my tremendous belief in the value of good music in the home and in the school.

I hope that Mrs. White keeps the courage of her conviction and buys only the best music. I have found that a four-year-old child likes Beethoven, Mozart, Schubert, Verdi, Massowgsky, and soon learn to distinguish the Mischa Elman tone from the Zimbalist wail, or the depth of feeling in a Kreisler record. Also, he knows at once, after the first note, whether Caruso, Martinelli, Paul Althouse, Riccardo Martin, Frances Alder, Margaretta Ober, Louise Homer, Julia Culp, or Alma Gluck are singing; and among these are the greatest singers in the world today. And he knew practically nothing about music four months ago.

I promise to give the school at least one good record after the victrola is purchased.

Very truly yours,

Mary Elizabeth Lloyd

Moving picture shows coming: Next Saturday, "The Country Mouse," by Bosworth; Tuesday, Dustin Farnham in "Cameo Kirby."

The Primary Election in August

Every resident, who has not already registered this year, must do so in order to vote at the very important election on August 29.

At that time there are to be nominated by the people candidates for United States Senator, candidates for the lower house of Congress and for the state legislature, judges and supervisors where there are vacancies.

Register at the Pine Cone office now.

Relief Work Again Calls Prof. Kellogg Abroad—The Work in Carmel

Prof. V. L. Kellogg, who organized the Belgian relief work last year in northern France, has been recalled to Brussels by Herbert Hoover, who is directing the relief work from his office in London.

Dr. Kellogg is now on his way to London to consult with Hoover. He expects to cross the channel for Brussels immediately, where he will relieve Director Poland.

A letter recently received from Hoover relates that indescribable depression and despair prevail among the people of northern France, where the rations—never more than a bare necessity—had to be reduced in March. The supply of potatoes in this region is exhausted, and there is no meat. Hoover says that in one community, for twelve days out of sixteen, the commission was unable to provide grease or meat base for soup. The vegetables now available are principally celery and dandelion leaves. Meat, when obtainable, costs $1.25 a pound.

For April the sum sent from Carmel to help the Belgians was $12.80—twice as much as for the month previous, but not nearly as much as for January or February. May is the fifth and June the sixth and last month as planned by the efficient General Relief Commission to obtain the aid of the people of California. Gifts of money or materials are earnestly asked for, and may be left with Mrs. L. B. Hanson, at the Development Co. office, or with the chairman, Miss Marion Wilkins, at Camino Real corner Ninth ave.

If you read it in the Pine Cone, you may safely repeat it.

Here's Where All May Help a Good Object

One of the best entertainers in the United States, a man who has made people laugh and cry from one end of the country to the other—George B. Williams—has been engaged to assist in raising funds to purchase a victrola for our school.

Mr. Williams will tell the story of the "Sleeping Car," by Wm. Dean Howells, in which he will impersonate a number of characters, among them the Conductor, the Baby, the Porter, the Man in the Upper Berth, and Aunt Mary. And there will be read some of the gems of James Whitcomb Riley and others.

Make a note of the time and place. This coming Friday evening, at the Manzanita Moving Picture Theatre.

Don't turn down the boy or girl who wishes to sell you a ticket. They are working for their school.

Can You Save $1000?

If you can, you become independent. The man who can deny himself often to acquire that amount has discovered the secret of wealth and how to acquire it.

From all over the state has come commendation of the efforts of the Knights of Columbus of the San Francisco bay cities to raise funds for the purpose of restoring to its original state the Carmel Mission building and environs.

Case Dismissed

In his haste to get back to his business in Palo Alto last week, the Salinas traffic cop thought Mr. G. Laumeister was exceeding the speed regulations.

"Where did you come from?" asked the prosecutor.

"Carmel-by-the-Sea," said the defendant.

"Case dismissed," ordered the Judge.

Dear Mr. Overstreet: Just a line to say there's no place like sunny Cal. for mine. It is very pretty coming up the Sound, but bitter cold.

Here's a little news: A few hours out of San Francisco we were run into by a three-masted schooner, smashing her bow and ruining our aft port boat. There was a great deal of excitement for a while. She was not seen until nearly upon us, as she had no lights. We went full speed astern after her. With our battery of search-lights we learned that the name of the run-away was William Lewis. Had we rammed her instead of her tail. Well, it wasn't her fault we didn't.

Yours, H. C. Hand

CLUB NOTES

By Miss I. A. JOHNSON

The long-talked-of party for the Boys' Club and the younger boys who do not belong, came off with great eclat on the evening of May 8 (eclat in this case meaning noise) twenty boys being present. The rooms were decorated with flowers, and nearly every boy brought a bouquet for the hostesses.

General games were played, and there were some particular ones, like the cock-fight, and a competition as to who would get through first, the boy who ate a cracker and whistled between each bite, or the one drinking a glass of water with a spoon. For the closing game everyone fished into a pool behind a curtain and caught a bundle. In the bundles were articles to take camping, toys, and various other things, most of them from New York.

After consuming a bountiful supply of ice cream and cake, for which we desire to thank Mr. A. Vachell, Mrs. George Reihl, Mrs. R. W. Hicks, Miss M. Clark and Mrs. W. L. Overstreet, the boys rendered a number of songs, more lustily than harmoniously.

One little fellow blissfully remarked, "I never could get sleepy when I'm having such a good time."

Mr. and Mrs. Devendorf were the guests of honor and seemed to enjoy the exuberance of the rising generation of Carmel.

WEEKLY GREETING

If you do not feel exactly like singing along the path of life, at least you need not growl and spoil the song of your fellows.

Old Journals Merge

After over half a century of separate existence, a recent consolidation unites two nationally prominent publications. The Independent and Harper's Weekly have decided to go it together. The latter has had numerous owners and editors during the last ten years.

In their palmyest days these periodicals had as their editors Henry Ward Beecher and Geo. William Curtis, men who combined to a marked degree ability as orators and as writers. Both of them were very influential in combating race prejudice, religious bigotry, partisan servility, and literary traditionalism.

Seek the Good

We think it was Mark Twain who wrote:

"There is so much bad in the best of us,
And so much good in the worst of us,
That it ill behooves any of us
To talk about the rest of us."

In a few lines he expresses a great doctrine, and if applied to our every-day conduct we would be models of tolerance and kindness. Don't encourage the pessimist.

That's How We Feel

The editor of a newspaper in Kansas does not say it in just this way, but he hints that the real assets of a public journal may oftener be measured by the adverse criticism it meets when it is right than by the so-called successes it achieves when it is wrong.

The newspaper of integrity is often called upon to oppose the popular side, first to maintain its self-respect and, again, the respect of its readers.

Accent the First Syllable

There has always been considerable discussion as to the proper pronunciation of the name Carmel which is derived from the word Carmelo. Its origin is distinctly Spanish, but the English accent is invariably used.

Professor David Starr Jordan, who has made an exhaustive study of word derivations, has written as follows on the subject:

"Carmelo is named for the 'White Friars,' a Catholic order of mendicant priests founded at Mt. Carmel in Syria about 1160. The name Carmel (in Spanish Carmelo, accented on the first syllable) means, in Hebrew, 'a fruitful place.' It is a pity that Carmel-by-the-Sea cannot go back to the original Spanish. The Mission was named San Carlos Borromeo in Carmelo. Carlo Borromeo owned the Borromeo Islands in Lago Maggiore in northern Italy, a rich Italian nobleman, who gave liberally to the church, and was canonized as a saint, in Spanish 'San Carlos, 'Sanctus Carolus.'"

In his report to the Census Bureau in 1880, Jordan wrote:

"Carmel Bay, (Esanada de Carmelo) just south of Monterey, is the most picturesque indentation on the coast of California."
